Alicante is very nice place to visit in Spain you would never regret. There is lot to explore in Alicante. So if you are planning for a nice and relaxed trip somewhere, it's a good option to refresh your mind under shadows of palm tree and walk by the narrow streets hanging by some bar or may be some of nice beaches out there. I will surely recommend this place to my friends.

One more thing i would like to mention here is that, there are lots of villas, apartments, townhouse available for rent. Go through www.propertylettingsnetwork.com or www.overseassalesandrentals.com for free booking of properties. I got it done through www.propertylettingsnetwork.com and had a very good experience.
