airport taxis can be the handiest thing in the world when it comes to having the easiest and most relaxing holiday you can. Once you get off the plane the last thing you want is to be dragging around your heavy suitcase or rucksack on and off buses and trains. This is where an airport taxi comes into play, yes it might be a little more expensive but for sheer comfort it best all the way.

Better to e-mail your Hotel and get them to arrange your transport any half decent hotel usually offers this service at around 750 Bhats for van taxis. I always do and the fare is usually 600 Bhat but that's for myself in a car to Patong. The grey coloured taxis at Phuket airport are run by the Phuket mafia and you'll be ripped off big time for sure.
